Eagle Net

The WESI team continues to deliver a wide range of professional support to financial institutions at home and abroad. Our capabilities continue to expand within our customer centric philosophy and our focuses at present tend to relate to survival and growth coaching, diagnostics, strategies and innovations.

To ensure that you have a current inventory of the executives' expertise a reference listing is attached. Additionally, a sample of our testimonials is also provided.

Please contact any team member or myself at 416-347-2469; 905-873-7733; pat@whereeaglessoar.com for further information or to discuss a specific opportunity.

Personal Thank you

The past three and a half months have been a physically and spiritually draining time for my family and me. As some of you are aware my husband, Ivan, has been in the hospital since April 2nd. He was on life support and in and out of Intensive Care and remains in the Complex Care area at Oakville Trafalgar Memorial Hospital. We do not know when he will be in a condition to come home, as his recovery has been very slow with few steps forward and many back. I want to thank those of you who have contacted Pat or me, for your prayers and messages of encouragement during this difficult time.
